

Call for Paper Outlines

International Conference on

The Eastern Himalaya: Gender, Poverty and Livelihoods

A two-and-a-half-day conference on “Eastern Himalaya: Gender, Poverty and Livelihoods” is being held in February 11-13, 2014 at Jamia Millia Islamia, New Delhi. The conference will gather scholars, professionals and students from a range of disciplines and interdisciplinary areas who are working or interested in various aspects of Eastern Himalaya on topics that fall within the broad thematic areas outlined in the attached Conference Concept Note.

The Centre for North East Studies and Policy Research at Jamia Millia Islamia, New Delhi invite scholars, professionals and students to submit a 500-word outline containing the brief narrative of the main focus of the paper on any of the sub-themes or related topics. The selected authors will be invited to develop original papers for presentation at the conference and possible inclusion in a planned conference volume.

The deadline for submission of the outline is November 19, 2013. Outlines should be sent to: sanjoyha@gmail.com, amarjeetdelhi@gmail.com, reshmiibchakraborty@yahoo.in & kaisiikokho@gmail.com. We will communicate with authors about the selection of their outline on or before November 26, 2013. A review board has been constituted for selecting appropriate articles for the presentations at the conference.

Invited participants will be provided accommodation during the conference. Limited funds for travel are available for those who may require support.
