Karthika Nair was born in India, lives in Paris, and works as a dance producer and curator. She is the author of Bearings, a poetry collection; DESH: Memories, inherited, borrowed, invented, a dance diary; and The Honey Hunter. Nair was the principal storywriter and scriptwriter of DESH, a multiple-award-winning dance production. She is India's only poet to have won a literary award for fiction for a work of poetry. Her notable works include Until the Lions: Echoes from the Mahabharata.
