

CENTRE FOR THE STUDY OF COMPARATIVE RELIGIONS AND CIVILIZATIONS
DOLLY CHAUDHARY
GOBIND SADAN: “AN EXPERIMENT OF INTERFAITH COMMUNITY”

Baba Virsa Singh emerged who was also allocated during independence. He established an interfaith community known as Gobind Sadan where all religions were under one roof and people from all faith came here to worship and seek the blessings of Baba Virsa Singh. He established an interfaith community known as Gobind Sadan where all religions were under one roof and people from all faith came here to worship and seek the blessings of Baba Virsa Singh. Though Baba Virsa Singh set up a great example in India by establishing the interfaith community but somewhere Baba Virsa Singh failed in doing so. Baba Virsa Singh just tried to convey that Sikhs are so great that they can accommodate all religion. But here he failed as he just want to show cased that Sikh religion is superior to all religion. Secondly, sikh religion is against ritualism but Baba Virsa Singh whole heartedly followed all rituals. Thirdly, in Institute of Comparative Religion, you will find majority of member from the Sikh religion. Fourthly, when the will deed of Baba Virsa Singh ji was released, majority of the member were from the Sikh background. Fifthly, when we look at the structures of the various religions, one finds that the Gurdwaras are well built than other religious buildings. Sixthly, people from all the community are staying over at Gobind Sadan. But once again there is a huge difference in the lifestyles of Sikh people and the other religion. Therefore, Babaji just tried to show that our religion is superior to the other religious tradition. At this place called Gobind Sadan, just an aura is created in such a way that people attracts towards the place where Id, Christmas, Janamasthmi , Navratras, Diwali, Vaisakhi, Holi, Lohri, Budha Purnima, Mahavir Jayanti, Hanukkah, and so forth all celebrations are commended with awesome excitement and energy so the way of life and conventions of each religion can be kept alive.