

Notification No: COE/Ph.D./(Notification)/508/2022

Dated: 28/02/2022

Name of the Scholar: Bushra Jabeen

Name of the Supervisor: Dr. Satya Prakash Prasad

Name of the Department: Department of Applied Sciences and Humanities

Topic of Research: BEHAVIORAL GEOGRAPHY AND LINGUISTIC PIDGINIZATION: A SOCIO-PSYCHOLOGICAL ANALYSIS OF THE STUDENTS OF KOLKATA

Findings

The present research planned to prove the following objective:

- To analyse the determinants of the elements defining the inclination of the non-native English speaking students towards learning English as a second language, under:

a) Motivation

b) Attitude

c) Self-Esteem

The major findings of the study were:

1. There are latent underlying structures and that all variables of motivation towards English as SLL of non-native speakers of the language are not loaded equally.
2. There are latent underlying structures and that all variables of attitude towards English as SLL of non-native speakers of the language are not loaded equally.

3. There are latent underlying structures and that all variables of self-esteem towards English as SLL of non-native speakers of the language are not loaded equally.
4. There were gender discrepancies in the factors of inclination (motivation, attitude and self-esteem) towards learning English as a second language.
5. There were geographical discrepancies in the factors of inclination (motivation, attitude and self-esteem) towards learning English as a second language.
6. There was significant outcome of the present research in analysing the linguistic aspect of the students categorised in terms of xenoglossophobic and xenoglossophilic behavior.