Women's Link

Women's Link is a bi-annual peer reviewed international journal, brought out by Jamia Millia Islamia, which engages with women's issues and gender concerns from an interdisciplinary perspective. Its objective is to generate debate and discussion around the current state of affairs related to women's status in society. It does so by bringing together well researched papers and essays, which engage with the current position of women, be it dalits, tribals, minorities etc., or the myriad contexts, global, national, regional or local, that come to frame the discourse of gender today.
